SUBMITTING THE TECHNICAL DOCUMENTS FOR A DOUBLE ENVELOPE TENDER

In this edition, we shall be discussing a challenge faced by some suppliers in responding to bids. Follow the story below:

"I submitted a bid for a Request for Proposal (RFP) for my company. I uploaded my technical documents in the Collaboration Room via the Collaboration link in the Notes and Attachments section.

Under my supervision, my procurement officer submitted our company bid for a Double Envelope Tender. She uploaded the technical documents in the "Collaboration" folder in the C-Folder.

Some months later, I was contacted by the Buyer that our documents were not seen. I was furious. What a great opportunity missed!

When I went through the NipeX Supplier guide again, I realized that the technical documents for the Double Envelope Tender was to be submitted in the Tech_Bid folder in my company folder on the C-Folder.

For Double Envelope Tenders after that tender, I always ensured the technical documents were uploaded in the Tech_Bid folder".

Lesson

Always remember to upload technical documents to the Tech_Bid folder for Double Envelope Tenders to avoid missing out on such tendering opportunities like the user in the story above.
